Useful Features	Website Categories	Maintnence	Feedback and Support	Hurdles
A dictionary for terms used on the website that is easily accessible during lessons.	The website is separated into sections that progressively build off each other.	Website resources that check from an updating database to keep website up-to-date.	A discord server where users can give feedback or receive support on the website.	Deciding on a main source of information to work off of for the website's lessons.
The ability to save your progress with a username and password.	A separate library section dedicated to indexing all of the possible sounds for linguistic purpose.	Hiring people to act as moderators for the website would reduce my workload and allow more consistent maintenance and support.	An option to report bugs or errors at the bottom of each page to allow fixes to be made to the website.	Deciding a user friendly format that would allow for the best user experience.
Highlighter and marker tools to allow users to annotate the text.	A guide to teach linguistic terms used in the lessons.	Hiring people from different countries to allow near 24 hour upkeep	A voting system to add new content to the website based off user input.	Website support for other languages.
Translation function for other languages.	A guide dedicated to the pronunciation of sounds and words.		A donation section for those that want to support the websites future.	Worldwide website accessibility.
Text-to-speech for the blind and illiterate.	An explanation of the IPA (International Phonetic Alphabet) and how it is used in the website.			Funding for website personnel.